DETAILED ACTION

This application is a 371 (national stage application) of PCT/BE04/00172.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 82-85, 88-93, and 100-104, drawn to a method of treating mood or anxiety disorders.

Group II, claim(s) 86-87, 94-99, and 105-109, drawn to a composition.

2. As set forth in Rule 13.1 of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), "the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept." Moreover, as stated in PCT Rule 13.2, "where a group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement of unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features." Furthermore, Rule 13.2 defines "special technical features" as "those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."

3. The inventions listed as Groups I & II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:
The special technical feature of Groups I-II is a composition comprised of pipamperone and an additional selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitor compound. The composition of generic claim 86 does not present a contribution over the prior art, as it was disclosed, and therefore anticipated, in Dodman (US 5,762,960) (Abstract, and column 10, lines 1-26). The Dodman reference was presented in the International Search Report. As such, Group II does not share a special technical feature with the instant claims of Group I. Therefore, the claims are not so linked within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 so as to form a single inventive concept, and unity between Groups I & II is broken.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Election of Species

5. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

If Group I is elected, EACH of the following species elections are required:

a) Selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitors: Each specific compound to be used as a selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitor, as well as pro-drugs and active metabolites of these compounds, as recited by claims 82-85, 88-93, and 100-104;

b) Multiple conditions to be treated, etc: Each condition and disease recited by claims 82-85, 88-93, and 100-104.

If Group II is elected, EACH of the following species elections are required:

c) Selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitors: Each specific compound to be used as a selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitor, as well as pro-drugs and active metabolites of these compounds, as recited by claims 86-87, 94-99, and 105-109.

6. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: claims 83-85, 88-93, and 100-104 as to Group I and claims 87, 95-99, and 106-109 as to Group II. The following claim(s) are generic: claim 82 as to Group I and claims 86, 94, and 105 as to Group II.

7. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

a) The composition which lacks a special technical feature in view of Dodman (US 5,762,960) (Abstract, column 10, lines 1-26).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Specifically, as to claims 82-85, 88-93, and 100-104, Applicant is required to define specific compounds, pro-drugs, and active metabolites to be used as selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitors as required for a particular species. As to claims 82-85, 88-93, and 100-104, Applicant is required to elect a single disorder or illness to be treated, as well as a particular patient population to be treated. As to claims 86-87, 94-99, and 100-104, Applicant is required to elect specific compounds to be used as selective serotonin, nor-adrenaline, and dopamine reuptake inhibitors, as well as any particular compounds as pro-drugs or metabolites. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
